We were treated to a free steak dinner last night. Free steak dinners, for some reason, are more palatable than those you buy with your own money.

The "Lion's Share," says William Penfield, comes from fable, which goes as follows: One day, according to one of Aesop's fables, a lion went hunting with a fox, a jackal and a wolf. They killed a deer, and the question arose as to how they should divide it.

The lion roared, "Quarter this deer!" and the other three skinned it and cut it into four parts. Then the lion stepped forward.

"The first quarter is mine because I am king of the beasts," he said. "The second part is mine, too, because I am judge in this dispute. The third part belongs to me because I took part in the chase. And as for the fourth quarter, I dare either of you lay a paw on it."

The lion took all four parts without opposition. This tale is the origin of "the lion's share" — meaning all, or nearly all, of anything.

This tale reminds us of the communists, who want to keep what is theirs then negotiate for what is yours.

Someone on TV the other night, remarking about the campus disturbances over the nation, said that students should go to college to learn, not teach and demand. In other words they are putting the cart before the horse. Many of them with no experience in living with other people, no experience in personal responsibility, and no experience in earning their own living, come up with half-baked ideas.

Susan Crider To Compete In Miss Ky.-Universe Contest

Twenty-two of Kentucky's most beautiful girls will walk across the stage at the Fulton

High School Auditorium Saturday night, April 26 with the "High hopes" of winning the coveted title of Miss Kentucky in the Miss Universe contest to be held in Miami, Florida on May 16. The program begins at 8:00 p.m.

This is the first time that the Miss Kentucky-Miss Universe pageant has been staged in Fulton; it is believed to be the smallest community ever to hold the franchise for the official selection of a Kentucky girl in the national and international contest.

The winner of the Fulton competition will receive an all expense paid trip to Miami on May 16 to compete with young ladies from the other 49 States for the title of Miss U.S.A. The program will be broadcast "live" over CBS-TV from Miami on the final night of the Florida pageant. In addition, the winner will receive $100 in cash and the opportunity to represent Kentucky in many exciting personal appearances during the year.

The show here on Saturday night will have many "firsts," it is the first time that a six-piece orchestra will furnish the music for the pageant and a concert for the audience during the program. The Melody Men, well known in the area, will furnish the music for the pageant.

The Transportation Department, which oversees time notes, reminded the public that Daylight Savings Time will be mandatory for such things as opening and closing hours of government offices and facilities, schedules of public and commercial transportation, and time requirements in contracts or legal duties and responsibilities.

The Arizona and Hawaii Legislatures in 1967 took advantage of an exemption clause in the law which permitted a state to continue on Standard Time all year long if the entire state and not just part of it is exempted. The Michigan Legislature followed suit last November.

Until Congress made Daylight Savings Time uniform nationwide in 1966, city and county governments in some states often made the choice of when and whether to use Standard or Daylight time.

Rubie Smith On Governor's Committee

Miss Rubie Smith, department head for Elementary Education, Murray State University, is learning quite a bit about innovative programs in elementary and secondary schools in Kentucky during this month.

Miss Smith is a member of a "blue ribbon" committee which has begun to evaluate innovative programs in 110 schools which have applied for the Governor's Outstanding Educational Innovation Award.

The 25-member committee of educational and civic leaders named by Gov. Louie B. Nunn is divided into five-member teams each assigned to a district. They will nominate a school in each category to be judged for the state award.

Following the deadline for applications April 15, the committee held its first working session at the Capitol April 16-17. They returned to their districts where they are now further evaluating the applicant programs through personal visits.

Gov. Nunn, who will present the state awards May 19 at a dinner for district representatives in Frankfort, initiated the awards program to "encourage innovative programs in education and to recognize schools with existing innovative programs."

The awards program, according to the Governor, has gained greater interest among schools than expected the first year. He noted while more than 110 schools had applied for the award, many others said they would plan to be judged next year.

In addition to the state award, district awards also will go to schools nominated for the state award.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor:

The restoration of the First Court House of 1823, is soon to become a reality. For several months, the Committees from the Retired Teachers' Association have been working to restore its original features and re-create the historical significance of the building as a permanent emblem of the past.

The task has been made a joyous experience because of the universal response from the people of West Kentucky. From youth organizations in grades, high schools and college to county and community societies of many interests, the concern in this undertaking has been phenomenal. Busy men have left their regular work to plan, build, and restore foundation and grounds for the permanent location.

It is with these thoughts in mind that the Committee wishes, also to express its appreciation to "The New Concord Seekers," a youth group under the sponsorship of Mrs. Garvin Phillips, who volunteered their services and raised $19.00 through the sale of plaques. Those participating were: Cindy Williams, Janet Newberry, Mike Cunningham, Rickie Horst, Danny Chadwick and Robert Brelsford.

We find that our young people today, as always, are willing to help in any worthwhile venture. The "So-called generation gap" is not as great as some would have it appear.

Parole Supervisor Speaks At Meeting Of Sociology Club

Howard A. Moss, supervisor of probation and parole for Western Kentucky, gave the speaker at an open meeting of the Sociology Club of Murray State University held on Wednesday evening.

Moss said that drugs and liquor are the cause of most of the parolees having to return to jail after they have been released. He cited the public for not giving the parolees more consideration in their rehabilitation.

The supervisor said so many of the parolees had made good after serving a jail term, but they do not get the publicity; whereas a parolee who goes bad again gets publicity.

Moss urged leaders in the community to take an interest in the parolees as the parole officer can't do it all alone.

Missionary To Speak Sunday

The Elm Grove Baptist Church will have as their visiting speaker Sunday, April 27th, at the eleven o'clock hour, Rev. J. T. Midyett.

He and his wife have spent a good many years in India preaching and teaching the Word of God. This furlough was delayed until he could get his return entry into that country confirmed by the Indian Government. It is becoming increasingly difficult for any Christian missionaries to get into that country for mission work, Rev. Midyett said.

Brother Midyett has been a friend to Rev. and Mrs. Wm. A. Farmer, who is pastor of Elm Grove for many years. He was privileged to be Bro. Midyett's pastor for several years. Mrs. Midyett is from New Jersey but has walked by the side of her husband and family doing the Lord's work, Rev. Farmer said.

The public is cordially invited to hear this dedicated missionary, the church pastor said.

Calloway County Teachers Meet To Discuss Problems

The Calloway County Teachers' Association met last night at Calloway County High School for the purpose of discussing the educational problems affecting the Calloway County School District.

Howard Crittenden, president of the associated president. He presented Superintendent Burton Jeffery, who gave the group a brief outline of the facts concerning a merged Calloway County-Murray Independent School District.

Asst. Superintendent William B. Miller, was asked to explain the tax structure. A printed breakdown of the tax structure of a merged district was presented to the group. Mr. Miller's clearly stated his position on the merger. He said that a cooperative endeavor must be maintained in achieving the school merger plan.

The six elementary principals were given the opportunity to speak concerning the issue. Each principal expressed his opinion concerning the tax and the merger.

Tommy Rushing, Almo said that "our great financial needs require us to support the tax increase. He said, "we must take a stand for what we believe is right. We must be able to tactfully answer citizens' questions in explaining the tax and the merger."

Fred Curd, Lynn Grove, said "we all know the conditions of our elementary schools and it appears that the tax is the answer to our problems." He brought out the question, "what will happen to our schools in the future?"

Drain Problems, Retirement Fund, Rezoning Are Covered

The Murray City Council met last night in a two hour session with much time being given to the discussion of several issues. A short agenda faced the council when they met at 7:00 p.m., however after hearing several complaints and discussing other problems of the city, the meeting lasted until 9:00 p.m.

A public hearing was scheduled at 7:00 o'clock on the rezoning of an area in the old Sykes Sawmill location. Part of this land is zoned business and a part of it zoned residential. An effort was underway to rezone the entire plot into business. No one was present for the hearing and an ordinance was passed on the first reading to make all the area business.

Four residents appeared before the council requesting a solution to a drainage problem along Poplar between 14th and 15th. Bennie Page told the council that there has always been a drainage problem in this area and that the city relieved the situation to some extent by placing a culvert under Poplar to carry away the water. In recent years, however, he pointed out, two parking lots have been paved near Main Street and surface water runs off with greater speed and the present culvert is unable to carry this flow.

Other residents speaking in behalf of the request were Glenn Reeder, Miss Vanda Gibson, and Harry Russell. Mayor Ellis and the Street Department will check the area for action.

Safety in the Murray Natural Gas System came under discussion and Wayne Doran, Superintendent, assured the council that a constant check is made for gas leaks, needed repairs, etc. He pointed out that he is well aware of the necessity of maintaining constant vigilance. Excavation and grading causes great load when it is done near natural gas pipes, he said, and a full time maintenance crew is on the job at all times. The gas system was commended for its good safety record.

The council adopted a resolution accepting a grant for the extension of the runway at Kyle Field. It was pointed out that service at the airport has greatly improved and that visitors to the airport have commented on the good reception and service they are now receiving.

Stanford Andrus, City Clerk, reviewed a recent meeting with city employees where the proposed retirement plan was discussed. Approximately forty city employees were present for the meeting. He said that fifty per cent of the city employees must sign up for the retirement plan if it is to be put into effect. The plan will be financed by the water system and the gas system with the audits of the two systems being used to arrive at the proportion of payments. The two systems will pay seven per cent of the amount to be placed in the retirement fund with employees paying four per cent. No action has been taken on the retirement system as yet.

Raymond Jones appeared before the council to protest that he had to buy the city sticker. He said that he worked in the city but lived outside the city.

A NO-CONTEST COMPETITION

Kentucky Post

SEN. HOWARD BAKER may be one of the Volunteer State's great statesmen, but as a gourmet we must rate him somewhat below Epicurus. He says Tennessee ham is superior to both Virginia and Kentucky ham.

It's little more than splitting pig-bristles to debate the difference between Virginia and Tennessee ham. Neither should be mentioned in the same breath with that tenderest, sweetest and most succulent of meaty morsels, a portion of genuine Kentucky ham, aged in a Kentucky smokehouse, liberated — after two years of mellowing in the ghostly perfume of old Kentucky hickory smoke — from its confining emerald cloak of furry green mold, and prepared for the table by an experienced Kentucky cook who knows the ancient secrets of how to handle fat and fire.

Let Sen. Baker hurl his heretical challenge! Let Sen. Harry Byrd Jr. accept or reject it — his decision matters not.

As for Sen. Marlow Cook, let him take up the gauntlet in behalf of Kentucky ham with full assurance that in any impartial competition between the hams of the three states, those of Tennessee and Virginia will taste like half-cured razorbacks by comparison with the prime aged thigh of thoroughbred porker a la Bluegrass!

Red-eye gravy indeed! How dare you, senator!

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Postman vs. Home Owner

More often than not, the relationship between postman and home owner is a warm and friendly one. But even into this sunny climate a little rain must fall. Such as, when the postman gets hurt and sues the home owner for damages.

As a general rule, the home owner is not liable if he is not guilty of any negligence. For example:

A home owner was sued by a postman who suffered a bad fall when a rotting porch step suddenly caved in. But a court found no liability. The judge pointed out that, since the rot was visible only from underneath, there was no reasonable way for the home owner to have discovered the danger.

By contrast, take the following case: A postman slipped and fell in the outer hallway of a home, because an excessive amount of wax had been applied to the floor. This time, there being negligence on the part of the home owner, the court ordered him to pay the postman's claim.

In terms of sheer frequency, the Number One hazard that the postman faces is a bite by the home owner's dog. Many thousands of on-the-job bites are suffered each year by mail carriers.

In such circumstances, the home owner is usually liable if the state has a "dog bite law." Under this law, a dog's master may be held responsible for a bite not only when he was negligent but even when he was not negligent in any way.

If the state has no dog bite law, the home owner might still be liable — but only if he was somehow to blame for the bite.

In one case, the owner of a vicious dog took the trouble to post a "Beware Of Dog" sign on his front door. However, when a postman rang the bell to deliver a package, the man opened the door and permitted the dog to dash outside and bite the postman in the leg.

A court duly imposed legal liability on the householder. The judge said posting the warning sign did not end his responsibility toward state visitors who, like the postman, had a perfect right to come onto the premises.

Man Found Dead

In Kevil Pond

KEVIL, Ky.—The body of a well known Ballard County livestock dealer, Donald Jay Brown, was found by neighbors about 6 p.m. Wednesday in a pond on his farm on Kevil Rt. 2.

Ballard County Coroner Milton Allen said the death of the 45-year-old Brown was an apparent suicide, caused by a small caliber gunshot wound in the center of the forehead.

According to the coroner, the search for Brown began after his wife returned home late Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Brown had summoned neighbors to help look for her husband after she returned home to find him missing Wednesday afternoon, according to the coroner. He said Mrs. Brown had been gone from the house all day and returned to find the contents of his pockets on a dining room table along with a note. In the note Allen said, Brown indicated he was going to take his own life, and that he "would be over at the little pond."

Allen said a .22 caliber rifle belonging to Brown was not found in the house and a search for the weapon was being conducted.

The coroner said an inquest into the death would be held next week.

Brown was a member of Bandana Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Martha Jane Brown of Kevil Rt. 3; two sons, Donald David Brown at home, and Wesley J. Brown of Indianapolis, Ind., and a sister, Miss Helen Brown of Sullivan, Ind.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at Jones Funeral Home at La Center with the Rev. Deward Hurst officiating. Burial will be in Mapleawn Cemetery in Paducah.

Orioles Pitching Staff Loaded, Strong Arms

By VITO STYLLINGO

The Baltimore Orioles' pitching staff, once noted for its arms, is now suddenly loaded with strong arms.

The Orioles completed a two-game sweep of a series with the world champion Detroit Tigers Thursday night with a 5-2 victory that left the Orioles with three pitchers boasting 3-0 marks.

It can't be a coincidence that

Whitworth Trying For Fifth Win

RALEIGH, N. C. UPI — Kathy Whitworth will be trying for an unprecedented fifth win in a row on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour here today, and out to stop her is the only other lady to win four straight.

At stake is $15,000 in prize money.

Mickey Wright, who dominated the ladies league until her semi-retirement in 1965, will be in a strong field of 50 all trying to put an end to Miss Whitworth's streak. They were to tee off today at the Raleigh Ladies Invitational golf tournament.

Leslie Holbert, of Long Beach, Calif., headed the team which won the pro-am tournament Thursday. Miss Holbert and her three amateur teammates had a best ball score of 57. She was not considered a threat in the tournament starting today, however.

Miss Wright, Carol Mann and Shirley Englehorn were given the best chance of stopping Miss Whitworth. One of the younger players given a chance to win was Muriel Lindstrom, a pretty mother of two.

UK Spring Game Is Saturday

By GLEN CARPENTER

LEXINGTON, Ky. UPI — It may be hard to believe, but Kentucky football coach John Ray believes his boys actually have enjoyed spring practice.

Spring practice, normally the bane of all football players' existence, officially ends Saturday night with the annual Blue-White Intrasquad game. Kickoff time will be 8 p.m. at Stoll Field and the game should give some indication of what Kentucky fans can expect from the Wildcats and Ray next season.

Ray said the game will be a final exam for the Wildcats. "This is a test of what they have learned this spring," he said. "Coupled with what they have done the rest of spring practice, it will go a long way in determining starting positions next fall."

"We hope to give the people in the state an idea of what our program is like," he said. "We want to give them something to look forward to next fall."

As for the enjoyment, Ray said players often have arrived for practice early. "We have great spirit and competition between the offense and defense," he said.

Ray said and Phil Thompson personified the attitude of the players by telling him recently, "Coach, this is the first time I haven't counted the days until the end of spring practice."

Quarterbacking the Blues will be sophomore Bernie Scruggs and junior Stan Forston, while sophomores Hugh Bond, Garnet Scott and Steve Tingle will handle the Whites. Scruggs, red-shirted last fall, and Forston have been battling for the top position this spring.

The Blue-White game will be the climax of a big weekend at the university, which includes the Little Kentucky Derby for the students and a golf tournament for Kentucky lettermen.

About 200 golfers, mostly lettermen, feed off today in the K-Men's Charity Golf Tournament. The K-Men will have a dinner tonight and then attend the dedication ceremonies Saturday of the Bernie A. Shively Sports Center. The present center is being renamed to honor the late athletic director who died December, 1967.

The little Kentucky derby features a concert tonight at Memorial Coliseum and bicycle races Saturday at the track.

Bruins Set Record But Miss Goal
By DICK DEW
UPI Sports Writer

BOSTON UPI — The Boston Bruins set an all-time regular season scoring record but they couldn't get the one goal they needed when it really counted.

So Montreal and St. Louis will again play for hockey's holy grail, the shopworn but richly rewarding Stanley Cup.

The Cardinals, the National Hockey League's most dominating team and current record-makers with 21 consecutive playoff appearances, scored a 2-1 elimination victory over the Bruins Thursday night to carry their cup defense right back into the best-of-seven finals.

The playoff showdown opens Sunday and continues Tuesday in Montreal before shifting to St. Louis for games on Thursday, May 1 and Sunday, May 4. Montreal rode into the finals

A NO-CONTEST COMPETITION

SEN. HOWARD BAKER may be one of the Volunteer State's great statesmen, but as a gourmet we must rate him somewhat below Epicurus. He says Tennessee ham is superior to both Virginia and Kentucky ham.

It's little more than splitting pig-bristles to debate the difference between Virginia and Tennessee ham. Neither should be mentioned in the same breath with that tenderest, sweetest and most succulent of meat morsels, a portion of genuine Kentucky ham, aged in a Kentucky smokehouse, liberated — after two years of mellowing in the ghostly perfume of old Kentucky hickory smoke — from its confining emerald cloak of furry green mold, and prepared for the table by an experienced Kentucky cook who knows the ancient secrets of how to handle fat and fire.

Let Sen. Baker hurl his heretical challenge! Let Sen. Harry Byrd Jr. accept or reject it — his decision matters not.

As for Sen. Marlow Cook, let him take up the gauntlet in behalf of Kentucky ham with full assurance that in any impartial competition between the hams of the three states, those of Tennessee and Virginia will taste like half-cured razorbacks by comparison with the prime aged thigh of thoroughbred porker a la Bluegrass! Red-eye gravy indeed! How dare you, senator!

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Postman vs. Home Owner

More often than not, the relationship between postman and home owner is a warm and friendly one. But even into this sunny clime a little rain must fall. Such as, when the postman gets hurt and sues the home owner for damages.

As a general rule, the home owner is not liable if he is not guilty of any negligence. For example:

A home owner was sued by a postman who suffered a bad fall when a rotting porch step suddenly caved in. But a court found no liability. The judge pointed out that, since the rot was visible only from underneath, there was no reasonable way for the home owner to have discovered the danger.

By contrast, take the following case: A postman slipped and fell in the outer hallway of a home, because an excessive amount of wax had been applied to the floor. This time, there being negligence on the part of the home owner, the court ordered him to pay the postman's claim.

In terms of sheer frequency, the Number One hazard that the postman faces is a bite by the home owner's dog. Many thousands of on-the-job bites are suffered each year by mail carriers.

In such circumstances, the home owner is usually liable if the state has a "dog bite law." Under this law, a dog's master may be held responsible for a bite not only when he was negligent but even when he was not negligent in any way.

If the state has no dog bite law, the home owner might still be liable — but only if he was somehow to blame for the bite.

In one case, the owner of a vicious dog did take the trouble to post a "BEWARE OF DOG" sign on his front door. However, when a postman rang the bell to deliver a package, the man opened the door and permitted the dog to dash outside and bite the postman in the leg.

A court duly imposed legal liability on the householder. The judge said posting the warning sign did not end his responsibility toward those visitors who, like the postman, had a perfect right to come onto the premises.

Man Found Dead

In Kevil Pond

KEVIL, Ky.—The body of a well known Ballard County livestock dealer, Donald Jay Brown, was found by neighbors about 6 p.m. Wednesday in a pond on his farm on Kevil Rt. 2.

Ballard County Coroner Milton Allen said the death of the 45-year-old Brown was an apparent suicide, caused by a small caliber gunshot wound in the center of the forehead.

According to the coroner, the search for Brown began after his wife returned home late Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Brown had summoned neighbors to help look for her husband after she returned home to find him missing Wednesday afternoon, according to the coroner. He said Mrs. Brown had been gone from the house all day and returned to find the contents of his pockets on a dining room table along with a note. In the note Allen said, Brown indicated he was going to take his own life and that he "would be over at the little pond."

Allen said a .22 caliber rifle belonging to Brown was not found in the house and a search for the weapon was being conducted.

The coroner said an inquest into the death would be held next week.

Brown was a member of Bandana Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Martha Jane Brown of Kevil Rt. 3; two sons, Donald David Brown at home, and Wesley J. Brown of Indianapolis, Ind., and a sister, Miss Helen Brown of Sullivan, Ind.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at Jones Funeral Home at La Center with the Rev. Edward Hurst officiating. Burial will be in Mapleawn Cemetery in Paducah.

Orioles Pitching Staff Loaded, Strong Arms

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles' pitching staff, once noted for its sore arms, is now suddenly loaded with strong arms.

The Orioles completed a two-game sweep of a series with the world champion Detroit Tigers Thursday night with a 5-3 victory that left the Orioles with three pitchers boasting 24 marks.

It can't be a coincidence that

The Orioles have now opened up a three-game lead in the American League's tough Eastern Division over the Tigers, Red Sox and Yankees.

It was Dave McNally's turn to join Jim Palmer and Tom Phoebus in the 2-0 class as he set down the Tigers on five hits. The Orioles' four-man rotation of McNally, Palmer, Phoebus and Mike Cuellar have started 16 of Baltimore's 18 games and have a combined 10-3 mark including seven complete games.

Frank Robinson hit his seventh homer and Dave Johnson added a two-run double to pace the Orioles' six-hit attack that beat Earl Wilson.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York drubbed Cleveland, 11-3; Oakland edged Minnesota, 6-4, and the Washington-Boston game was rained out.

Whitworth Trying For Fifth Win

RALEIGH, N. C. UPI — Kathy Whitworth will be trying for an unprecedented fifth win in a row on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour here today, and to stop her is the only other lady to win four straight.

At stake is $15,000 in prize money.

Mickey Wright, who dominated the ladies league until her semi-retirement in 1965, will be in a strong field of 50 all trying to put an end to Miss Whitworth's streak. They were to tee off today at the Raleigh Country club in the Raleigh Ladies Invitational golf tournament.

Leslie Holbert, of Long Beach, Calif., headed the team which won the pro-am tournament Thursday, Miss Holbert and her three amateur teammates had a best ball score of 57. She was not considered a threat in the tournament starting today, however.

Miss Wright, Carol Mann and Shirley Englehorn were given the best chance of stopping Miss Whitworth. One of the younger players given a chance to win was Muriel Lindstrom, a pretty mother of two.

UK Spring Game Is Saturday

By GLEN CARPENTER

LEXINGTON, Ky. UPI — It may be hard to believe, but Kentucky football coach John Ray believes his boys actually have enjoyed spring practice.

Spring practice, normally the bane of all football players' existence, officially ends Saturday night with the annual Blue-White intrasquad game, Kickoff time will be 8 p.m. at Stoll Field and the game should give some indication of what Kentucky fans can expect from the Wildcats and Ray next season.

Ray said the game will be a final exam for the Wildcats. "This is a test of what they have learned this spring," he said. "Coupled with what they have done the rest of spring practice, it will go a long way in determining starting positions next fall."

"We hope to give the people in the state an idea of what interesting football is and what our program is like," he said. "We want to give them something to look forward to next fall."

As for the enjoyment, Ray said players often have arrived for practice early. "We have great spirit and competition between the offense and defense," he said.

Ray said end Phil Thompson personified the attitude of the players by telling him recently, "Coach, this is the first time I haven't counted the days until the end of spring practice."

Quarterbacking the Blues will be sophomore Bernie Scruggs and junior Stan Forston, while sophomore Hugh Bald, Garnet Scott and Steve Tingle will handle the Whites. Scruggs, red-shirted last fall, and Forston have been battling for the top position this spring.

The Blue-White game will be the climax of a big weekend at the university, which includes the Little Kentucky Derby for the students and a golf tournament for Kentucky lettermen.

About 200 golfers, mostly lettermen, teed off today in the K-Men's Charity Golf Tournament. The K-Men will have a dinner tonight and then attend the dedication ceremonies Saturday of the Bernie A. Shively Sports Center. The present center is being renamed to honor the late athletic director who died December, 1967.

The Little Kentucky derby features a concert tonight at Memorial Coliseum and bicycle races Saturday at the track.

Bruins Set Record But Miss Goal

By DICK DEW
UPI Sports Writer

BOSTON UPI — The Boston Bruins set an all-time regular season scoring record but they couldn't get the one goal they needed when it really counted.

So Montreal and St. Louis will again play for hockey's holy grail, the shopworn but richly rewarding Stanley Cup.

The Cardinals, the National Hockey League's most dominating team and current record-makers with 21 consecutive playoff appearances, scored a 2-1 elimination victory over the Bruins Thursday night to carry their cup defense right back into the best-of-seven finals.

The playoff showdown opens Sunday and continues Tuesday in Montreal before shifting to St. Louis for games on Thursday, May 1 and Sunday, May 4. Montreal rode into the finals four games to two with a battle-scarred veteran and a relative neophyte showing the way. It was Jean Beliveau's goal at 11:28 Thursday night that finally finished off the brash brawling Bruins.

But it was the goal-tending of Rogatien "roggy" Vachon which brought the Habs to that decisive point and which, ultimately, stilled the Bruins most in the playoffs.

Boston had dropped only two of eight regular season games to the Canadians and the record-shattering Bruins to a man predicted a similar domination in the playoffs.

They based it on the presumption that they would be firing at the veteran Camp Worsley. And when a hand injury knocked him out after three games, the Bruins gleefully trained their sights on Vachon, rights that had produced an all-time mark of 303 regular season goals.

Bench Psychology Worked On Cards' Julian Javier

By JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

The psychology of the bench has obviously worked on Julian Javier.

Javier, St. Louis' All Star second baseman, was one of three players benched last week by Manager Red Schoendienst in an effort to shake up the stumbling world champions.

The move worked as far as Javier is concerned. Reinstated in the starting lineup, Javier has stroked eight hits in his last 17 at-bats, including four Thursday as the Cardinals handed the Chicago Cubs their fourth consecutive loss, 3-2.

Lee May drove in three runs with a homer and a two-run single to lead the Reds over Los Angeles in a game which featured 29 hits.

Wes Parker had four hits and Bill Sudakis, who homered, drove in three runs for the Dodgers, who had 16 singles and a home run.

Nate Colbert, left unprotected by Houston in the expansion draft, smashed a three-run homer—the first of his major league career—to snap a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning and boost San Diego over the Astros.

Colbert, knocked down by Jack Billingham's first pitch, responded by blasting the next one over 400 feet, the first homer off Billingham in his 58-game major league career. Olie Brown had homered for San Diego in the second inning and Denis Menke tied the game with a fourth inning home run. Philadelphia capitalized on first homer of the season in the seventh after Willie McCovey's single for the first two runs of the game.

Escape Shutout
The Braves escaped a shutout in the ninth when they scored a run on doubles by Orlando Cepeda and Mike Lum.

errors by pitchers Carroll Semer and Jerry Robertson and third baseman Jose Laboy to score five runs in the ninth inning and defeat the Expos. With the Phils leading 2-1 in the ninth, Ron Stone singled and went to third when Semer's batted Don Money's bunt. Mike Ryan's double scored Stone and Larry Hight singled in another run.

Robertson relieved Semer and fumbled a ball to load the bases. Tony Taylor followed with a long sacrifice fly, scoring a run and advancing the other two runners. When catcher John Bateman's attempted pickoff throw got by Laboy, both runners scored.

Gold Rush Talk Won't Buy a Wife

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 66 years old and could retire any time, but I like to keep busy. I have one business which nets me about $50,000 a year. I own two homes, some good rental property, and a little real estate.

I lost my wife two years ago. I am all alone, and would like to get married again. My friends think I'm crazy—that I should "enjoy" life for a while. What's to enjoy all alone?

There are several women who are after me, but they are too young. I want a lady about 50 who wants to get married and stay married. I don't want a gold digger. I want to be a husband again.

CALIFORNIAN

DEAR CALIFORNIAN: There are probably more women in the state of California who are "about 50" and want to be wives again than anywhere else in the world. My advice to you is to keep your eyes open and your mouth closed. And quit talking about your assets or you'll start another "Gold Rush" in California that will make the original look like a Girl Scout picnic.

DEAR ABBY: When a kid goes wrong, what factor is more responsible? His heredity or his environment?

NEEDS TO KNOW

DEAR NEEDS: It's a toss-up. But one thing is certain. His parents will get blamed for both.

DEAR ABBY: Girls like to be alone sometime. I know I do. I lock myself in my bedroom and listen to the radio. Sometimes if I have a boyfriend and he's mad at me, or I think I've lost him, I cry.

But my mother won't leave me alone. I can't be in my room for more than five minutes until she will make me come out.

What am I supposed to do so she will leave me alone? I don't want to break up and cry in front of her.

CRY BABY

DEAR CRY BABY: Your signature told me more than your letter. Are you sure your mother makes you come out of your room if you're in there for more than "five minutes"? I doubt it. Perhaps she thinks you spend too much time brooding and feeling sorry for yourself—which is unhealthy and unproductive. Yes, girls need some "privacy"—but be honest. Haven't you been overdoing it?

DEAR ABBY: I used to encourage my teen-age children to read your column, but lately I've had to hide the paper. All you've been printing it seems are letters from unwed mothers, unfaithful husbands, and some crazy nut who likes to sleep in his wife's babydoll pajamas. Are you picking more sensational letters just to make more lively reading, or is there more of this stuff going on now than before? ALBANY MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I doubt that there is more of this "stuff" going on than before, but one confession inspires another, and people are less inclined to be ashamed of their problems when they realize that someone else has the same problem.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cars Need A Hook For Puruses

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—A hook for the handbag somewhere within reach of the driver's seat was the wish of most women questioned by the German automobile club.

Almost as many complained of the use of dark grease or graphite lubricate door hinges because they leave smears on dresses and coats.

A number of ladies suggested car makers provide some way of dividing the trunk into compartments to prevent shopping bags and other small items from rolling around.

Women's comments on modern cars were published in the club's monthly magazine, "Motorwelt."

WHAT'S NEW

By United Press International
Forget about matching thread color to every last stitch when hemming dresses or skirts or when turning up the pant legs of son's trousers. With a new product, all you need is a steam iron for "permanent stitchless sewing." The new material is a cobwebby bonding net that holds through washings, dry cleanings and even the brimstone heat of a dryer. And it is invisible. Just place the material between the two layers to be fused and press on both sides for about 10 seconds with a steam iron. If you decide to change a mini skirt to a micro, the bonding can be removed as it was applied, using steam iron, the manufacturer says.

A new lettuce crispier of frost white is made of dishwashersafe plastic. In the bottom there's a rust-proof injector or spike that holds lettuce upright, not touching container sides. An airtight lid assures an ideal moisture balance to keep contents green for days.

One maker's new line of lipsticks for spring comes with color-coordinated rings attached. All the rings are ornamented with seven dangling colored beads and have adjustable bands. The manufacturer suggests you use the rings on finger or, come summer, toes.

A gold-plated figure of a baby on a walnut base is suggested as a permanent birth record of additions to the family tree. A gold-plate on the base has space for baby's name, date of birth, time, length and weight.

DRIP-DRY TAFFETA IS IN. The popularity of knits has brought about a new approach to intimate apparel. The clinging quality of knitwear requires a sleek, smooth undercover with minimum seaming. Taffeta is popular for under-knitwear, since it is relatively free of static electricity and provides a slick surface to balance the snug knit. A taffeta slip should be washed in soap or detergent suds, then rinsed and hung to drip-dry. Crisp-finish fabrics such as taffeta should not be squeezed or wrung during laundering. Test wrinkles be pressed in. — Mrs. Catherine C. Thompson.

YOUR SAFETY — Incorrect lifting methods require unnecessary effort and often cause back injuries. The SAFE way to lift is the Easy way to lift. Briefly, the right way to lift is: 1. Get a secure footing. 2. Bend the knees to grasp the object. 3. Keep the back straight and as nearly upright as possible. 4. Get a firm hold. 5. Lift gradually by straightening the legs, keeping the back straight. 6. Similar safe procedure should be followed when putting down a load. 7. If the weight is too bulky or heavy to lift comfortably, secure help. — Mrs. Barletta Wrather.

Although some of the chemicals used are not presently available to homemakers, in the future, you may be able to keep the beauty of fresh cut gladiolus perhaps twice as long by using the USDA method. — Mrs. Mildred Potts.

One hundred two Homemakers from the Purchase Area counties attended the Kentucky Extension Homemakers Association Annual Meeting at the University of Kentucky, in Lexington, the last week of March.

Outstanding speakers for the event included Professor R. F. Struck of Pikeville College and Dr. Harvey C. Hahn, minister from Dayton, Ohio. The titles of their discussions were "Communications" and "Solutions or the Problem?" — Mrs. Maxine Griffin.

The quality of many spices and herbs deteriorates rapidly. Purchase them in small quantities because many seasonings begin to lose their flavor when over six months old. Store them in airtight jars in a cool, clean, dry place, preferably in the dark. — Miss Patricia Everett.

Campaign Is Under Way To Improve Pig

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON UPI—There is, as you may know, a nationwide campaign under way to improve the image of pigs.

I was talking this week with one of the men behind the campaign and he said it all began when the Keep America Beautiful program adopted as one of its slogans, "Don't be a Pig in the Park."

"Many hog raisers felt the slogan was terribly unfair to pigs, which actually are cleaner, more intelligent and better mannered than most household pets. So they complained to the National Pork Producers Council about it."

Had No Experience

"Those of us associated with the council felt that something should be done, but we had never had any experience with image building."

"All we knew was that when promoters are trying to get a point across, they usually have buttons printed. So we ordered some buttons with 'Hogs are Beautiful' printed on them. 'After that, the campaign just sort of took off without any further stimulation from us, and is now sweeping the country. 'If we had known what we were doing, we probably would have ruined it.'"

I said, "How do you account for the campaign's success?" "I think it just happened to appeal to the public's innate sense of fair play," the council spokesman said.

"Most people want to see justice done, and when they realized that pigs were the victims of a smear campaign it aroused their finer instincts."

Can Count on People

"If you put the facts before the people, you can usually count on them doing the right thing. Take the matter of food prices, for example."

"Housewives all over the country are complaining that food prices are too high. Most of these complaints are unjustified. 'Actually, food is the cheapest thing you can eat. If housewives understood that, I'm sure they would say nothing more about it.'"

I said, "What is the next step in the campaign to improve the pig's image?"

"There is a grass roots movement under way to persuade the Post Office Department to issue a pig stamp," the council spokesman said. "After that, who knows what might happen?"

"I hope to live to see the day when pigs will be universally recognized as the noble creatures that they are.

"On that bright day, some hippie demonstrator will shout 'pig' at the cops, and the cops will take it as a compliment."

PRESENTED BADGE

WASHINGTON UPI—The Friendship Veteran Fire Engine Co., Alexandria, Va., organized by George Washington, presented President Nixon a gold plated fireman's badge Tuesday. President Nixon's Beverly told Nixon: "We consider you as great as a president as George Washington and you will go down in history."

GOALS NOT REACHED

WASHINGTON UPI—J. George Harrar, president of the Rockefeller Foundation, told the House Inter-American Affairs Subcommittee Tuesday the "ultimate goals of the Alliance for Progress in Latin America have not been reached" and will not be "by any early foreseeable date." Harrar, leadoff witness at two weeks of hearings, said the alliance has not been a total failure, but it is time to make a "thorough examination" of its accomplishments.

Adults Use The Local Library Most

By Dorothy M. Byrns

The value of our local library to this community is intangible. However, these facts illustrate the extensive use of the Murray-Calloway County Library by its patrons.

Circulation from the library alone for March 1968 was 10,113. This number almost triples the circulation for March four years ago. Adults check-out a ratio near two to one over children at the library. Children use the Bookmobile most at its 87 stops. We are among the highest in state circulation on a per capita basis. Non-fiction is read more than fiction by our people. The total circulation for March 1968 was approximately 21,000 including records, periodicals, paintings, and tapes as well as books.

Cultural programs at the library are of interest to all age groups. The staff conducts two weekly Story Hours for young children, hosts the Great Books Discussion Group monthly, and entertains regularly classes, the kindergartens, scouts, and senior citizens as visitors. Headstart groups go often.

The range of materials available in the library is extensive. There are 35,000 volumes in the library including large print books for adults. There are 102 current issues of magazines available with back issues in the stacks for public use. More than 1,500 tapes and recordings of music or readings and 59 paintings may be checked out the same as books and periodicals. Modern copying machines and a microfilm reader are available.

Approximately $3,150 is spent on new materials for the library each month with the state buying

Lambuth Band Will Have Spring Tour

JACKSON, Tenn. — The annual Spring Tour of the Lambuth College Concert Band under the direction of Richard L. Brown, assistant professor of Music, is planned for April 28-30. Performances will be held in West Tennessee and Arkansas.

The band will appear at Beech Bluff High School and Bolivar Central High School on Monday, April 28.

On Tuesday, April 29, the group will cross the Mississippi River for appearances at Pigott High School, Pigott, Ark., and Harrison High School, Harrison, Ark. The concert at Harrison will be a homecoming for Brown, since he is a graduate of Harrison High and also, former band director there.

The 42-member musical organization, representing ten states, will present a program which will include contemporary music for concert band by such exciting new composers as Vaclav Nehybel.

Don L. Huneycutt, assistant professor of Music at Lambuth and an accomplished concert pianist, will travel with the group. Huneycutt will perform "Requiem" by David Bennett, a composition for solo piano with band accompaniment.

Lambuth senior Li Darby will be featured with the touring group in a novelty vocal number. The program will also include "Flutist" by Clara Grunman which features the flute section and "Motet in Italian Style" a sixteenth century tune by Johann Hermann Schein, transcribed for band by Frank Erickson.

Before returning to Jackson on Wednesday, April 30, the band will enjoy a side trip to "Dogpatch U. S. A.," located near Harrison, Ark.

This new entertainment park was built with the cooperation of Al Capp, "L'il Abner" cartoonist, and features scenes and characters from the comic strip.

Members of the band sections are: Flute, Piccolo — David Allen, Margie Bonar, Jean Daves, Gay Garrett, Peggy Scheper, Linda Tingle, Keith Whittemyer, Clarinet — Carla Cronwell, Cheryl Darby, Glenn Fesmire, Russell Harris, Anabel Ledbetter, John McDougal, Lynn Moore, Marla Parenteau, Bruce Scott, Oboe — LaNita Barnett, Ann Thomas, Bass Clarinet — Clifford Morrison, Jerry Winters, Alto Saxophone — Glenn Latta, Mollon Tucker, Tenor Saxophone — Brenda Bachelor, Richard Donnell, Baritone Saxophone — Lynn West, Cornet, Trumpet — Lee Lyon, Larry Owens, Jimmy Watlington, Ralph Welmer, Bob Zak, French Horn — Marsha Mullens, Barbara Spry, Baritone — Bruce Gowan, Trombone — Tommy Allen, John Cook, Bill Wagster, Tuba — Jim McRae, Mike Noble, Percussion — Li Darby, Pat Garrison, Sharon Hagg, Bonnie Kirk, David Pyron, Carole Walton.

about 200 new books and local funds buying about 150 new books. The average cost per book is $9.00.

CAPITOL IDEAS—A couple of Austin, Tex., state Capitol employees, Dennis Craggs and Susan Fortis, measure off the amount of additional skirt required to conform to the edict by land commissioner Jerry Sadler: skirts must extend to the knee and men's sideburns may not be lower than the center of the earlobe.

SUEZ POWDER KEG—Barbed wire stretches across the sand (foreground) on the Israeli side and skeletons of bombed-out buildings line the shore on the Egyptian side of the Suez Canal near Kantara as tension continues in Middle East.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK UPI — It is "misleading" to assume that the heavy cash positions of many funds will soon force them into vigorous buying action, lifting stock prices and buttressing the market against tight money, Schenman Timing Forecasts says.

The cash-in rate by fund investors also has been rapidly rising, requiring greater liquidity by the funds, the firm notes. In addition, many funds hold relatively large positions in thinly capitalized issues or even in lettered stock which cannot easily be liquidated. In fact, the firm says, it is even probable that "a few funds are on dangerously thin ice at the present time because of their inability to get liquid."

Many stocks currently are selling at deeply oversold levels of indicated strong support, Hayden, Stone Inc. observes, and the downside pressure during recent periods of price weakness has not been particularly aggressive. A significantly bullish news development or conclusive evidence that a market base has been established probably will be necessary before the current trading rallies develop into something broader and more durable.

Bache & Co. believes that Vietnam developments currently "provide the catalyst for institutional interest." Rumors of possible progress precipitated hedging by funds against the chance of a sudden breakthrough, but when Vietnam progress possibilities "fade from the news," the firm says, there appears to be a concurrent "dry-up of enthusiasm in the market."

Buyers seem gradually to be getting more courageous, Shearson, Hammett & Co. says. There is a strong feeling that the Federal Reserve has "done its worst" and "has no more shoes left to drop," the firm adds, but whether the tight money situation will now be relaxed or whether the economy will continue to be held in check is not yet clear.

NEW YORK UPI — Any peace progress could touch off a dramatic market rally, says Walston & Co., judging from the market's current tendency to climb in response even to the faintest of "peace hopes." Because an enormous amount of cash is sitting on the sidelines, some traders and investors are moving into the market already in anticipation of "good news from Viet conversations" and a sharp upward reaction in the market.

Though it is not unusual for a rally to recover from one-third to one-half the ground lost during the course of a primary downswing, there is still technical evidence the current market may yet yield lower prices, according to Spear and Staff Inc. More than half of the stocks are under their prices of nine months ago, the firm points out, and "the hard realities of tight money, ignored now, will have to be faced in the second half of 1969."

Standard & Poor's sees the present rise as a trading rally

We have it

Unreasonable optimism generated by "expert commentary" on the market's rally and why it will continue is partly responsible for the present rise in stock prices, Sheinman Timing Forecasts says. However, the firm notes, this very faith in the inevitability of a high rate of inflation and a correspondingly buoyant market is forcing government to be far tougher in restricting the economy than originally planned.

The January Service says, it is fear of being caught holding depreciating dollars that has been mainly responsible for "such showings of strength as Wall Street has put on since inflationary psychology became rampant."

Tessell, Peaurick & Ostrau says technical probabilities favor a continuation of market stability during the next few weeks. It is likely the intermediate advance which began six weeks ago is intact and has at least another four to eight weeks before the market becomes generally vulnerable, the firm adds.

ah, yes! GOD Lives

We live in a wonderful world full of purpose and values. All this requires a Purposer, a Creator. The more we discover the universe, the more we are sure there is a creative artist at work. Visit the mountains, stand by the sea, witness the storm, and we become aware of a power greater than man. It is God and He is not dead as the man said. The sun rises in a pattern and the stars obey a scheme. We bow to the law of gravity and enjoy a world controlled by dependable systems. We believe in natural law. God's law. Without a great creative power we could not have had Moses, Mohammed, Buddha and Jesus Christ. When we put Creative Power, Wisdom and Righteousness together, belief in God is the result. He is at the controls. God is not dead.

Paul Klein Researches TV Ratings

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD UPI — Paul Klein, NBC-TV's resident research whiz, works basically at trying to understand national television audiences. Statistics are his raw material, but as an intelligent man his eventual pursuits are human values and programming philosophy.

In a recent note, for example, he observed: "The problem is not the rating services but rather the unsophisticated analysis of rating data that causes Doris Day, for instance, a program with no audience in urban areas to be considered successful by CBS and possibly even by advertisers."

One Reason

Klein added: "One of the reasons for appealing to young adults and for trying to make the young adult audience the criterion of popularity is to get the urban audience and that portion of the rural audience which is urban and of course heavy product buyers. This pursuit it seems to be serves two functions:

"1. It raises the level of programming, since young adults watch higher quality programming than kids and old ladies and,"

"2. Makes us money to continue the pursuit."

This pragmatic thinking is an extension of Klein's thoughts as expressed a while back in an article for the show business newspaper "Variety," in which, among other things, he wrote of the demise of studio drama:

"When he was young, the people who owned sets lived in big cities and had above average incomes and above average education. Because the audience was upper-clant the programs that were successful, by and large, appealed to the upper-clant taste....

New Owners

"As the years went on, TV's growth tended to fill in the lower clant, lower brow and the less urban and rural areas. These new owners who brought to the TV audiences their rather unsophisticated taste, did not view the sophisticated 'Golden Age' drama...."

On the other hand, Klein noted in his article, "The Nielsen meter measure did lead to programming which sold sets to all people in the United States and created the greatest mass medium ever devised. While the measure tended to knock off Golden Age programs it did raise the standards of a major portion of the population of the country."

JAUNTY PRINCESS—Princess Anne of England wears a jaunty felt hat with a feather at the three-day Badminton Horse Trials on the estate of the Duke of Beaufort in Badminton, England.

JORDAN BOMB DAMAGE—Survivors gather near rubble in Irbid, Jordan, following bombing of the area by waves of Israeli "Mirage" jets. Israeli officials said the area was a guerrilla base. (Radiophoto)

U.S. SHIPS IN FAR EAST—U.S. Aircraft carrier Hornet sails through the South China Sea on its way to the Sea of Japan to provide protection for reconnaissance planes and ships. The Hornet was accompanied by six destroyers.

Veterans Questions and Answers

Q — I am a veteran of World War II and will soon reach my 65th birthday. Will I be entitled to a VA pension?

A — You may be eligible for a pension from the Veterans Administration at age 65 if your income from all sources does not exceed $2,000 a year if you are single, or $3,200 a year if you have one or more dependents. A wife's income and the size of your estate are factors which must also be considered.

For further information and assistance, check with your nearest VA office.

Q — My husband has a heart condition which developed in service. He was able to work until three months ago when he had a heart attack and the Veterans Administration awarded him 100 per cent disability.

The doctor says that he will never be able to go back to work. With two children in college, I will have to work to help support us but I don't have any training. Can the VA help me?

A — Possibly. VA education assistance is available to the wives, sons and daughters of veterans who are determined by the VA to be permanently as well as totally disabled. For a maximum of 36 months, the VA will pay a wife, son or daughter up to $130 a month for full-time institutional training.

Since you indicate that your husband has been rated totally disabled, you should check with the VA regional office where his records are on file to see if his current condition is considered permanent by the VA.

Q — I recently received my National Service Life Insurance dividend check. I am now drawing 100 per cent service-connected disability compensation and, because of this, the premiums on my policy are waived.

Since I do not pay anything into the insurance fund, should I return the dividend check?

A — No. You need not return the check since you are entitled to this dividend.

However, you should understand that the waiver of NSLI premiums is not due to your 100 per cent disability compensation rating. Rather, it is due to the fact that your disability meets the premium waiver requirement of "any impairment of mind or body which continuously renders it impossible for the insured to follow any substantially gainful occupation."

If you become employed, your NSLI premium waiver may be terminated.

The Veterans Administration operates 166 hospitals.

CORNELL NOT CUBA—Carrying rifles and wearing a bandoleer (a la Cuba), two dissident students leave Willard Straight Hall at Cornell University in Ithaca, N.Y., after a two-day sit-in. An estimated 80 students were involved.

Will Jones Rites Are Held Today

Funeral services for Will V. Jones of Murray Route Two were held today at one p.m. at the chapel of the Max H. Churchill Funeral Home with Rev. Millard Teague and Rev. Robert Robinson officiating.

Burial was in the Highland Park Cemetery in Mayfield with the arrangements by the Linn Funeral Home of Benton.

Mr. Jones, age 80, died Wednesday at 10:15 a.m. at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Orpha Jones; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Russell Hoffman and Mrs. Refus Tabers; one stepson, Mr. Ray Smith; three brothers, Otis, Clotus, and Eleazian Jones; seven step grandchildren; fifteen step great grandchildren.

Both Mayor Ellis and City Attorney Wells Overbey told Mr. Jones that under existing law the city had authority to levy the city sticker on anyone who worked in the city and that the only recourse Jones had was to take his case to Circuit Court and the Court of Appeals.

A four-way stop will be placed at Story and Meadow Lane in an attempt to reduce the number of accidents at that intersection. Presently Meadow Lane is a through street and traffic stops going east and west on Story. Police Chief James Brown said that most accidents are being caused by failure of traffic to observe the stop signs on Story. The four-way stop will be tried for six months to see what effect it will have on the traffic at that point.

The Bee Creek sewer line will get underway as soon as some legalities are cleared according to Leonard Vaughn, chairman of the sewer committee. A line will run along the railroad tracks to connect the Bee Creek line to the sewerage treatment plant.

Roy Starks urged that Sanitation System and Street Department employees receive the same vacation period as the rest of the city employees, 21 calendar days. An ordinance will be drawn to this effect.

Rex Burlington, Superintendent of the Sanitation System reported the 2,000 gallon gas 'oline tank had been put into place at the system headquarters on North 12th Street and that the base for the pump had been poured. The tank will go into use about May 1. The city will construct a concrete block building at the site to house oil and the air compressor.

Councilman Preston Ordway urged that something be done about the sewerage lines in the Hughes Avenue area. The lines are old, he said, and surface water entering the lines causes sewerage to back up into basements in the area. The old sewer lines allow surface water to infiltrate which adds to the load placed on the sewer lines. John Trotter, Superintendent of the Murray Water and Sewer System reported that sump pumps in the area now pump excess water in basements to the outside, whereas they formerly pumped water into the sewer lines. This will be of some help, he reported. Leonard Vaughn said that installation of the Bee Creek line plus other improvements will alleviate the situation in the future.

Chief of Police James Brown reported violations over the last three weeks as follows: allowing person without a license to drive automobile 1, DWI 2, disregarding stop sign 1, running red light 1, public drunk 12, speeding 2, reckless driving 13, accident 30, parking ticket violations 180, fleeing police 1, passing on double yellow line 2, petty larceny 2, no operator's license 4, no helmet 1, unnecessary noise 6.

LA CANADA, Calif. UPI - Sheriff's deputies said Eric Hanley had money to burn - and was doing just that. Deputies took him into custody in front of an incinerator in a public park where they said he was burning counterfeit money. They charged Hanley, 22, of Anaheim, still had $80,000 in unburned bogus bills at the time he was seized.

A woman in the park said Hanley had been throwing things into the incinerator for three hours.

four or five years with no money."

James Feltner, Hazel, stated that he was interested in all children and that he was also thinking of his own children. He said he all know we need new buildings. "We must sell the people on this tax by getting everyone involved, directly or indirectly." He said teachers must accept the responsibility before them. This step toward the merger is the most forward progress that has been for education in Calloway County in its entire history.

Billy Outland, Faxon, said "Education has come to a crossroads. We must stand still or move forward." "As educators we should know what are the best educational opportunities for our children. We can help answer the questions and the needs concerning these opportunities and help pass this tax to give children a better education."

M. B. Rogers, Kirksey quoted Ecclesiastes 3:1. "To everything there is a season, and a time." He said it was time to unite and vote for the tax.

Bob Allen, Concord, told the group that educators should support the things that are best for the children of Calloway County.

All members of the Calloway County School Board were present and some expressed their views in favor of supporting the merger. They are Chairman Billy Joe Stubblefield, Ferrell Miller, Calvin Key, Lubie Parrish, Robert Ross, As Chairman, Mr. Stubblefield stated we are all aware of the undesirable conditions in our elementary schools and that we are all working to support the same things.

Carmon Parks, a teacher at Calloway High School spoke as a taxpayer and not as an educator. He gave the axiom that as "light begets light," so does "money make money." He said "I think this tax is not going to cost us money, I think it is going to pay us. It costs so little and pays so much. He declared that to educate the 4,100 children in the county it would cost each person per year approximately 2¢ a child if an individual paid taxes on property valued at Fifty Thousand Dollars. He stated "we should be willing to share our money to help someone else."

Several teachers made remarks concerning the merger and the tax. It was suggested that newspaper articles be written explaining the facts of the merger and the tax.

A committee was appointed by Mr. Crittenden to place an advertisement in the paper letting the people of the County know the exact meaning of the tax and the merger.

Spring Road Rally Is This Saturday

Lambda Chi Alpha is sponsoring a Spring Road Rally this Saturday, April 26th at 10:00 a.m. The starting line will be in the freshman parking lot on Chestnut Street.

Three check-points have been set up along a pre-determined course and winners will be determined by their ability to reach the finish line in a specific amount of time and not by speed.

Three trophies (Fraternity, Sorority, and Independent) will be presented to the winning teams.

Contestants for the Rally are urged to pick up rules, and entry forms in the lobby of the Student Union Building on the M.S.U. campus.
